Well Positioned For Strategic Growth in 2017

With 55 commercial products and a global distribution network, Simlatus is a revenue company that manufactures and sells a commercial product line of audio and video systems for the major Broadcast Studio Industry, and smaller broadcast studios. The new 'SyncPal' product is scheduled as the next new product release, while the new Immersive Broadcast System (IBS) 'Simlatus-IBS' is scheduled for release in late 2017.

The broadcast industry is a changing organism of technology, and Simlatus has left its footprints with the industries major studios like CBS, FOX, NBC, ABC, ESPN and DirecTV over the past 18 years.

We recognize the need to change with technology, and we have designed our new SyncPal system to compete with today's immersive technology. SyncPal is complete and being beta-tested with a major studio and world's largest studio in Burbank, California. It goes to market in June-2017. Our commercial and consumer based Simlatus-IBS (Immersive Broadcast System) product will launch in the virtual-augmented reality world of immersive technologies in 2018.
